RE: Change in Title and Course Description for POL 6100

The Department of History is proposing a change in Title and Course Description for POL 6100

FROM:

POL 6100 – PRINCIPLES OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION AND PUBLIC AGENCIES
(3 crs. 3 hrs.)

The practice of American public administration emphasizing the role of bureaucracy in the American political system, political environment of public-sector administrative units, process of policy-making and policy implementation in the American political context, policy-making function of administrators and their relationships with other factors in the political process

TO:

POL 6100 – PUBLIC POLICY AND PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
(3crs. 3hrs.)

An introduction to public policy making, policy analysis, governance, and public service in the American context. The course will emphasize the role of bureaucracy in the American political system, the political environment of public-sector agencies, the process of policy-making and policy implementation, and the policy making function of administrators and their relationships with other actors in the political process.

Rationale for Change:

The new title and description are clearer and more reflective of what is taught in the course and the terminology of the field. The hope is that students will find the title in particular less obscure.
